Dear Mr. Clevenger,

Thank you for contacting NESTLÉ® Baking Products.

Please be advised that we do not have a gluten free list for our baking products.

For several years now Nestlé has been following a strict labeling policy with regard to any of the "Big Eight" allergens in our foods and incoming ingredients. We have insisted that our suppliers notify us if gluten is used in any of their ingredients. Therefore we believe that we have uncovered any potential uses of gluten containing ingredients.

Please be assured that any Nestlé products will be fully labeled for any presence of gluten or gluten containing ingredients. We find that this message is much easier than trying to maintain a positive list of products free of gluten containing ingredients.

I have also included the links to our gluten-free recipes below. All of our recipes have been created and tested by the Nestlé Culinary Center. So join us in the kitchen and bake your very best with Nestlé.
